EDINBURGH

Edinburgh is an internationally renowned city. It boasts a strong, diverse economy supported by multiple high performing sectors as well as being home to the Scottish Parliament. The city is the UK's second largest financial centre and fourth largest in Europe, as measured by equities under management. Edinburgh also hosts more FTSE 100 companies than any other UK city outside of London.

The city is a major hub for financial services with Royal Bank of Scotland, AEGON/ Kames, and abrdn being some of the largest employers in the city. Edinburgh also has an expansive technology and creative industries sector having established itself as a European Tech Hub with Flutter Plc, Cirrus Logic, Skyscanner and Rockstar North all located in the city.

Outside of London, Edinburgh has the highest average Gross Value Added per capita of all major UK cities at £46,030 – significantly higher than the UK average which sits at £29,063).

Edinburgh has more trees per head of population than any other city in the UK. The capital is also home to 112 parks, which make up the lungs of the city.

Edinburgh's city region is home to a population of 530,000 residents with the wider catchment area encompassing over 1.4m people.

Edinburgh is the UK's most visited tourist destination outside of London and benefits from the second highest hotel occupancy rate in Europe.

Google eTown Awards recently recognised Edinburgh as the second most tech-savvy town in the UK. Edinburgh's forwardlooking attitude, young population and willingness to embrace new ideas were all highlighted as factors behind the success.

Edinburgh Airport is the UK's fastest growing airport in terms of international passengers. The airport now provides direct flights to over 158 domestic and international destinctions.

The city is constantly improving and, over recent years, funding has included; £1.1bn through a 'City Deal' to support innovation, infrastructure, tourism, housing and culture; £2.6m to Edinburgh World Heritage for conservation of the city's historic environment and £14m in support of The Edinburgh Festivals since the start of the Covid-19 pandemic.

EDINBURGH PARK

Established in the early 1990s, Edinburgh Park is now firmly established as Scotland's premier business park providing more than 1 million sq ft of high-quality office accommodation to over 30 occupiers, employing in excess of 7,000 staff.

The park enjoys excellent car, bus, tram and train connectivity with Edinburgh city centre 6 miles to the east and Edinburgh Airport 2 miles to the west. The building is located 0.2 miles from Edinburgh Park Central tram stop.

The park is home to leading UK and global corporate occupiers including JP Morgan, Aegon/Kames, HSBC Bank, Diageo, Regus and Sainsbury's Bank.

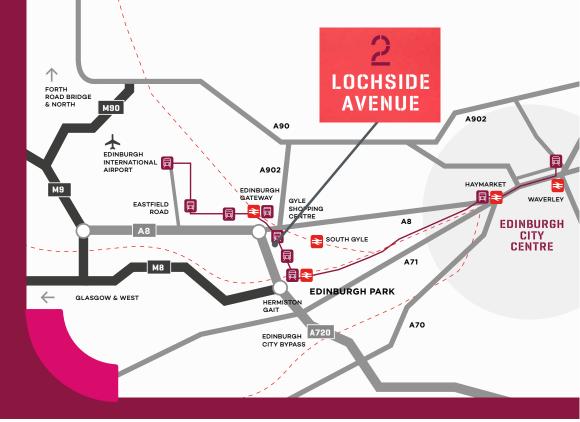

The park offers excellent amenities to attract and retain occupiers and employees alike. The Park Centre includes a bar/brasserie, nursery, gym and swimming pool. Hotel accommodation is provided by Novotel, Premier Inn and Ibis.
